REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The action of the Legislature at its last session, in passing a law changing the beginning of the school year from March 1, to August 1, has complicated the matter of reports for school boards, in no small degree. To conform to the law and make a report at this time means giving the results of a half year's work that ended seven months ago, which we think would be very unsatisfactory ; hence, we purpose giving you a summary of the work to date, as the custom has been, believing that we owe it to our school patrons and citizens, knowing full well that the report here embodied will not harmonize with any returned to the state superintendent. A prominent educator at a recent county board meeting aptly said, in speaking of this change, "Either the one who suggested the law did not know what he wanted, else he failed to hit what he aimed at."

Reference to our financial statement will show the sums of money available for schools, supplies and repairs, also how the same has been expended. There have been seven schools, whose terms aggregated 176 weeks ; No. 8, which was closed after two weeks because of its smallness, not being included. This has given us an average of twenty-five weeks for each school, the highest, we think, ever attained and at no increase in appropriations. No school has had less than twenty-four weeks excepting No. 1, whose term was a consecutive one of twenty-two weeks. The fall term of No. 3, spring and fall terms of No. 4 grammar, summer term of No. 5, were not satisfactory ; all others were excellent.

In text books there is a pressing need for a new geography.

No satisfactory work has been presented until recently, hence no action has been taken. In grammar the need for change was equally as apparent and we deemed it best to introduce Raub's series, placing the Practical for use in the schools last fall; the Primary work should go into use in the spring. The change has been manifestly a good one. Some means should be devised tending to greater care of school books; pupils, and parents also, forget that books are only loaned for use; the idea seems to be that the town pays for them, a new one can be had for the asking, so no matter how they are used, or rather abused. We do not believe parents would allow the present lack of care if they were individually responsible for the damages done. In the matter of small supplies, wastefulness is very apparent; in the fall grammar school a pencil was furnished each pupil once in seven days. In the winter term when teacher and school board attempted to correct this waste, for it was nothing else, by giving a pencil once in twenty days, complaint was made by parents, and demand made that pupils be given all they ask for; in some towns in the county a limit is placed at two pencils per term; the board do not regard alone the expense incurred but also the habits of carelessness and extravagance, as a reason for restraint.

We would call parents' attention to another matter of vital importance, one that demands your earnest attention; it is that of absences; 1724 school days lost by our pupils the past year; you cannot afford to allow this, their progress in school work requires their constant attendance, principles past over during a pupil's absence are rarely mastered by the absentee, and hence prove a hindrance ever after. Will you not see to it that the school-aches so apt to afflict children are removed and that better attendance follows.

With the number of pupils in our schools constantly decreasing, yet a demand for as many schools as in the past, we may well ask you to think what the outcome is to be. Having the best interests of our scholars in mind, their mental growth, their greatest good, can we afford to follow the present way, taking our chances of gaining good results from an occasional excellent teacher, only to have her good work completely annulled by a successor utterly ignorant of methods, wanting in judgment, and lacking that essential to success "aptitude to teach." Can we improve our schools? Yes, But it will cost sacrifice of sentiment on the part of some. The day is not far distant when legislation will compel the combining of schools numbering less than fifteen or twenty scholars. What would this mean for Marlow? Three schools, with terms of at least thirty-six weeks each; systemized studies, regular advancement, teachers whose aim and training has been to prepare themselves for instructors, results that would equal those obtained in the best schools of the larger towns—all this and much more—at no increase in expenditures. Will you wait for this time or make a voluntary advance?

REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF TOWN LIBRARY.

There are now 935 books catalogued, 59 were added the past year; all the books, with one exception, are accounted for. The general condition of the library is not up to the average in this respect, that a larger number of books than usual will have to be re-bound, or replaced by new ones.

173 persons have taken books to the number of 2,600. Largest number of books taken by one person, 67. Largest number by one family, 133.

The new catalogue which the trustees were instructed to prepare is ready for the printer, but through unavoidable delay was not prepared until so late in the year that the trustees considered it advisable to postpone the printing until this year's (1896) additional books were purchased, thereby saving one year's addition or supplement to the catalogue.
